

How your personal Information is used for Recording and Monitoring Attainment Progress in Education

Here at Midlothian Council, we take your privacy seriously. Under the Data Protection Act 2018, you have a right to know how we collect, use and share your personal data.

This privacy notice explains the information we need in order to record and monitor attainment progress. This activity is part of the Education Services provided by Midlothian Council. More information about the Education Services privacy notice can be found by clicking here

Our Privacy Promise

We promise to collect, process, store and share your data safely and securely.

What lets us collect your information?

If we work with you, we will be acting under some, or all, of the legislation noted below:

- Education (Scotland) Act 1980
- Standards in Scotland's Schools etc. Act 2000
- Education (Scotland) Act 2016
- Equality Act 2010
- Children (Scotland) Act 1995

What kinds of personal data do we collect?

The personal data we collect might include your name, date of birth, address, National Insurance number, or other information that identifies you. If necessary, we might also collect what is called 'special category' data – that is, sensitive information such as medical/health information.

How do we collect your personal data?

We collect your personal data in many different ways. You might give us your personal data yourself, by entering your information in a form on the Council website or by contacting a Council officer in person, in writing or over the phone. We might also receive your personal data from other agencies or local authorities. If we share information regularly with another organisation, the conditions for sharing your personal data are set out in an Information Sharing Agreement.

How do we use your personal data?

Attainment data collected will inform planning and provision of support to ensure learners reach their potential.

Data sets will allow for school and authority wide planning and resources allocation and will inform service priorities.

Why do we share your personal data?

The sharing is necessary for the exercise of the Council's Education function under the Education (Scotland) Act 1980, Children (Scotland) Act 1995 and related legislation.

With whom do we share your personal data?

If necessary, we might share your personal data with other agencies and authorities, depending on the service being provided. We will only share your personal data if it is necessary to do so, and the appropriate conditions have been met.

The external bodies with whom we share attainment and progress information might include (organisations with a star are mandatory):

- Other Local Authorities
- Central government or government agencies
- NHS
- Police
- Charities and advice organisations / third sector partner organisations
- Elected officials Local or National
- Software suppliers
- Personal data also might be shared between Midlothian Council services, including Children's Services and Health and Social Care.

Personal data also might be shared between Midlothian Council services, including Schools.

How long do we keep your personal data?

Your personal data is kept in line with Midlothian Council's Retention Schedule. The retention schedule sets out the kinds of information the Council creates and uses, how long it should be kept, and what should be done with it at the end of its 'life.'
